Introduction

So many times I've seen my time running out to make money. I've made sums of my physical labor at max capacity until I'm supposed to retire and saw I'll have to live for 600 years to afford a R2mil home. I frantically searched for an answer and in the scramble I found new skills and opportunities. I've had the privilege to start over in my life too many times to count which helped me develop my extraordinary skills. Finally I can share this knowledge base with you after years of research, trial and error...this will not only save you thousands of rands and light years in time, but will also grow your money while you are sleeping. This quadruples your potential income that you would not have had without this course or knowledge.

Tell me HOW?

I. De Clutter!

You have time! Find any item useless or not in your house, garage, garden, desk or under the bed... statistically something you haven't used for the last 6 months, won't be used in the future... Search your cupboards, check the kitchen, anything that has value but not to you. If you can't find anything or you just recently de cluttered your home, ask your friends & family to sell things for them for a commission. Arrange 10 to 20% for your efforts to sell their (or any one else's product / stuff). Broken items: sell it as spares - explain the items problems in your description (an expert in fixing it will gladly take it off your hands)

Bonus Trading tip: Those low cost items... The ones you can't sell for more than R50 - bundle your items until it reaches a value you are happy with. (detailed list on what stuff to look out for in the master class)

II. Ran out of stuff to sell?

Create, build or make items to sell (there are thousands of ideas on Pinterest (warning its addictive). Or have a look at the products you are buying, if you like them so does someone else. Arrange to sell the business products by asking in an email. (Email templates, and convenient arrangements along with fast flying item list in masterclass)

III. Best Selling price between:

R100 to R200, of you want to cut out the tedious labor of Tyre kickers sell items between R200 and R500. Your proper profits lie between R500 to R1000. But these items tend to lie around a little longer. If you sell for someone else, low cost items profits should be 50% shared. The value of listing an item is at least R50 to R100 effort.

IV. Notes

Categories include Cars, electronics, sporting goods and many more. Avoid supplements and services on FB your account will be blocked (more pitfalls in masterclass to avoid account blocks for weeks.)

Start here with your items:

- Clean and prep these items - (you won't buy dusty old items why would someone else?). If you go into a second hand shop and the items look worn, I won't even touch them. If they have dust on my perceived value drops by 50% for that item...
- Price your item (lower prices sell faster) don't undervalue your item you will be bargained with all the time. Take the highest bid! Don't waste fuel traveling after people, confirm your sale before meeting up at a safe place (detailed pointers in masterclass) .
- Photos are your selling point - get this right, borrow a camera with better picture quality if yours is not sufficient. Get the lighting right! Get your featured image right. Set the stage, I won't buy a coffee machine standing on the grass or in dirt for instance, neither should you. Pro tip - Download the items original image from google as your featured image and then upload your own pictures from there. This draws more attention to your ad.

- Describe your item - sell it with words! Your description should be able to sell your item without a picture (masterclass covers short-cuts in descriptions and I'll share the absolute Power words with you to convert your sales)
- Post post post! These are my preferred 2nd hand sale hot spots in this order.
 1. Facebook Marketplace (the master class will show you to join group's and sell in a flash)
 2. Gumtree (use the free adds)
 3. Junkmail (free classifieds)
 4. Olx (free classifieds)

Running your small business:

- Messaging - Create demand and urgency, and filter Tyre kickers to not waste time (masterclass offers response templates and tutorials on how to use the suggested time saving apps)
- Organising apps So many products so many platforms so many responses - mistakes can cause bad reviews (masterclass how to keep clients happy, organize your messages, keep track of sales). to make your life easier and your responses faster I use the following apps. Click on the links to install them safely.
 - Swift key
 - LastPass (click on the link)
 - WhatsApp business
 - Notepad
- Safety first! Schedule viewings at a safe place, public place or at a security gate. If you have to drop an item off, cycle or walk there (the point is to maximize profit) every time you start a car engine assume a R50 loss on the item. Avoid cash payments into your bank account. The banking fee to receive cash payments is uncomfortably high. If you can arrange for a friend to go with you, do so.
- Scamaters - especially with electronics (cameras), bicycles and bulk orders... Master class reveals how to keep your stuff and yourself safe from scamsters... Don't loose your gambling money over a scammer sending fake proof of payments.
- Meetings & shipping - to avoid daily disruptions in your life (if this is a side-line job) schedule meetings (pick ups) twice a week and after 5pm (when everyone is back from work). Group items to be shipped so you only need to go to town for deliveries once a week. Try to ship on Monday to Wednesday - from Thursday the chances are high that your product will be stuck in the warehouse, leaving it exposed to theft or mix ups, and or anxious clients.
- My Preferred crypto investments companies (that has been working for me) we've just worked on getting money from nothing... Here's how you can grow it guilt free. NO bank investment can do this.

1. My M.T.I. (growth up to 14% a month)
2. Easy Equities (Life long investments)
3. Soon to be released a personal Trading BOT - buy the written code for higher more successful profits on your own Forex Trades.
